Beyond Learn to Skate

Congratulations on completing the Learn to Skate curriculum! Having journeyed through the fundamentals, you've likely encountered the concept of private lessons. Now, it's time to delve into the world of personalized coaching. Your private coach will be your dedicated guide, navigating you through the intricacies of the Mentor Figure Skating Club, US Figure Skating tests, disciplines, and the structure of competitions. This is your opportunity to refine your skills, set new goals, and elevate your figure skating journey to new heights. Get ready to embrace the challenges and achievements that come with skating!

Testing

U.S. Figure Skating tests are a gateway to competitions and personal achievements. Skaters showcase their skills before a panel of officials during test sessions, aiming to progress to the next level. While competitive skaters are required to participate in the U.S. Figure Skating test structure for competition eligibility, all skaters can opt to take tests to continually challenge themselves and enhance their skating abilities. Tests cover various areas such as skating skills, singles, pairs, and ice dance, with a separate track available for adults aged 21 and older. As skaters advance, the tests become more challenging, making each successful test a significant cause for celebration. Achieving success in the final test of each pathway earns them the prestigious title of U.S. Figure Skating Gold Medalist.

Disciplines

Competitive figure skating comprises five distinct disciplines: men's singles, women's singles, pairs, ice dancing, and synchronized skating. Within each discipline, there are various levels for competition and testing. These levels progressively build on similar techniques and follow specific rules and guidelines unique to each level. Skaters have the flexibility to participate in multiple disciplines, allowing them to test and compete across a range of events.

Singles events require form, style, technique, concentration, and handling pressure. Competitions feature a short program and a free skate, showcasing elegance, athleticism, and talent. The short program focuses on required elements for high scores, while the free skate allows more elements, with the overall score combining both programs.

Synchronized skating is a team sport with 8-20 skaters performing in unison. It follows the same judging system as other disciplines, featuring a short program and a free skate. Elements include blocks, circles, wheels, lines, intersections, spins, and more. Despite not being an Olympic sport, synchronized skating is popular worldwide and the fastest-growing figure skating discipline.

Ice dance involves a male-female team performing dance patterns, step sequences, and maneuvers, emphasizing interpretation of music. The competition includes a rhythm dance and a free dance. Rhythm dance features required elements, while the free dance allows creative expression to a chosen music, with scores combined to determine overall placement.

Frequently asked Questions

How do I get my skater into private lessons?

Starting private lessons is a fantastic way to enhance your skater's journey. If your skater already has a coach they enjoy working with during their Learn to Skate classes, feel free to approach the coach directly and inquire about private lessons. Coaches are usually open to discussing and arranging lessons. If your skater is unsure about which coach to choose or has specific preferences, you can reach out to the arena for guidance. The arena staff is there to assist and can provide recommendations based on your skater's needs and goals.

What is the Figure Skating Club?

The figure skating club operates independently within the arena, with its own ice rental arrangements. Affiliated with US Figure Skating, it caters to dedicated skaters progressing beyond Learn to Skate levels. The club secures ice time at a more affordable rate through the city, making it advantageous for skaters advancing to higher levels. It offers a supportive community and resources for those considering private lessons and aspiring to skate beyond the introductory stages.

What is the difference between Freestyle City ice and Club ice?

The primary difference between club ice and freestyle ice lies in their management and accessibility. Freestyle ice refers to private lesson time provided by the city. It doesn't require club membership but necessitates having a private coach. To access freestyle ice, you can register through the city by logging into your online account, calling the arena during business hours, or paying at the front desk before skating. On the other hand, the figure skating club offers additional ice time through its membership. This ice time is independent of the city's offerings and is managed by the club itself. For more information about club ice and its benefits, please feel free to contact the Mentor Figure Skating Club directly. They can provide details about membership advantages, additional ice time opportunities, and any other inquiries you may have regarding their offerings.
